Fences

by August Wilson

As the fifties give way to a new spirit of liberation in the 1960s, Troy Maxson struggles in the face of racism and changes in the world around him

Lion

by Saroo Brierley

Previously published as A Long Way Home, the story of the author's 25-year separation from his family describes how he was lost on a train at the age of five and endured years on the streets of Calcutta before becoming an upper-middle-class resident of Tasmania and resolving to find his way back home. Reprint. Movie tie-in.

Hidden figures : the untold true story of four African-American women who helped launch our nation into space

by Margot Lee Shetterly

Explores the previously uncelebrated but pivotal contributions of NASA's African-American women mathematicians to America's space program, describing how Jim Crow laws segregated them from their white counterparts despite their groundbreaking successes

Redemption at Hacksaw Ridge

by Booton Herndon

The men of the 77th Infantry Division couldn't fathom why Private Desmond T. Doss would venture into the horrors of World War II without a single weapon to defend himself.
